

Prof. Dr. Francis Megerlin is full professor (Health Laws & Systemics) at the University of Strasbourg – EUCOR, also at the ESSEC Business School, Paris Institute of Political Studies, and UIASS at Rabat. He is a senior fellow at the Berkeley Center for Health Technology, University of California, and a full member, Académie Nationale de Pharmacie, France. Francis holds a PhD in International & Comparative Law (complex litigation) and a HDR in Pharmaceutical Sciences (information systems). His teaching covers health laws and governance. His current research focuses on the regulation of advanced technologies, innovative pricing and payment methods for health technologies / services, and transformation of complex organizations under constraints.